Emporia's First School House Erected 1864

RAD

IATING

In the diamond we have reflected many years of scholastic progress and achievement, from the frame school house of yesterday with its few advantages for the development of the pupils who attended it to the efficient modern building of today which offers to its students all the opportunities which contribute to their education and to the betterment of their lives. The high record our school has attained is attributed to the spirit shown by each student and his willingness to co-operate with his associates. In the future it is our desire that we may continue to work as citizens just as the pioneers have worked before us, and with the same view in mind; to make our city greater in size and in attributes.

DEDICATION

WE, the Senior Class of 1932, realize the opportunities offered us, and to those hardy pioneers who sacrificed and suffered to make these opportunities possible, we dedicate this book. The examples set by the founders of Emporia are well worthy of our note, and it is our wish that seventy-five years hence, we will be able to feel that we have done our share in giving the coming generation such opportunities that they may be able far to surpass our modern standards.

RICE E. BROWN, A. B., A. M.
Principal

College of Emporia; University of Kansas

Mr. Brown, our principal, has been in the Emporia schools for twenty-two years. For nine years he taught English and History, and for the past thirteen years has been the principal of Emporia High School. Both in the position of instructor and principal he has served the high school well. The watchfulness and interest he has shown concerning our school has been an asset to the growth and development of it.

Mr. Brown is a member of the Schoolmasters' Club, which is a state-wide organization of school men; the C. of E. Chapter of Phi Mu Alpha Musical Fraternity; Athena Scholarship Honor Society at C. of E.; and the Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa National Honorary Fraternity at K. U. He also belongs to the Rotary Club, one of Emporia's civic organizations. Mr. Brown received his Master's Degree from the University of Kansas in 1923.

In Memoriam

MARY ETTA PRICE
1881-1932

Miss Price had been an English teacher in our school for the past fifteen years and had won the love and respect of all with whom she came in contact. She passed away March twenty-second after a very short illness. Because she was intelligent, yet had great sympathy for her pupils, Miss Price was a very popular teacher among the high school students. She is missed by all who knew her and her place in the school and community is difficult to fill.

CORNELIA CONWELL
1913-1931

Cornelia was a 1931 graduate of Emporia High School. She made excellent grades, being elected a member of the National Honor Society. She was very popular with her classmates, and took part in many activities. Her last great achievement in high school was the editing of the 1931 Re-Echo. Last fall Cornelia entered the Teachers College and became a pledge of the Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority. On October 4, Cornelia passed away after a week's illness. All Emporia High School students, faculty, and a host of townspeople and friends mourned her passing.

THE SENIOR CLASS

Although the Senior class of 1932 is not the largest graduating class that E. H. S. has known, it is the most intelligent, most dramatic, and most active. This illustrious class has worked out its own problems to the highest possible degree and given much aid and consolation to the struggling Juniors and Sophomores.

The class enjoyed many entertaining social events during the year. The peak of activities was reached, however, at the formal Senior banquet which was held at the Hotel Broadview. Everyone enjoyed the feast and the splendid program that was planned.

The Senior class certainly owe much to their sponsors: Mr. Stout, Mr. Lodle, Miss Shirley, Miss Dutton, Miss Coverdill, for their help and co-operation during the entire school year.

The Junior class of 1932 is one of the largest if not the largest of any Junior class in the history of the High School.

It has contributed very generously to the various activities in the school and in doing so its members have not sacrificed scholastic achievements, as is shown by the number of students on the honor roll.

As we begin to realize our junior year is drawing to a close we are confronted with the seriousness of becoming Seniors and the dignity which must be upheld. A Senior is always envied and is looked upon as one setting a precedent. In this respect may we pay tribute to the Senior class of 1932 and say the example set by them in the classroom and various organizations of the school is of the highest type and we wish them success in any line of endeavor which they may choose. It is the wish of every member of the present Junior class, when they become Seniors, to so conduct themselves both as individuals and as a class that their achievements may set examples for the underclassmen.

In the past year we have had the very able assistance of our sponsors, Miss Schmalzried, Miss Sirpless, Miss Douglass, Miss Miller and Miss Rice and we want to thank them for the interest which they have had in our advancement.

The Sophomores in all their glory arrived at the Senior High School prepared to awe the Seniors, but after several squelching looks and a lot of good advice from them, we almost decided we weren't as wonderful as we had imagined ourselves. We have tried to live up to our high ideals and we distinguished ourselves along certain extra-curricular activities just to show the know-it-all upperclassmen that we are a most superior group. Our class further distinguished itself by placing many members on the term honor roll. We have been a depression hit class and for this reason and inclement weather our many planned parties and picnics did not materialize, but we had one line party to the Strand. At any rate, we have proved to ourselves, if to no one else, that we are much more wonderful than any class before us and we are confident that we are better than any to come after.

FRANCES ONSTAD ..... Vice-President
LORENE CRAVENS ..... Secretary
BETH FULTON ..... Treasurer

The Girl Reserve organization includes nearly every girl in school; therefore, it must appeal to the interests of many types. This is done through interesting and worthwhile programs, definite projects of service, and various social activities such as teas, monthly dinners, picnics, and parties of all kinds. At the beginning of the school year, a group of representative girls meet in a setting-up conference to plan the year's work and to choose a theme, the theme this year being "The Budding Rose." The big and little sister plan helps new girls to feel more at home in Senior High School, and many other things are done during the year to make others happier. In order to receive more inspiration and enthusiasm for their work, about twenty girls are sent to one of three conferences: Estes Park, Camp Wood, and the mid-winter conference.

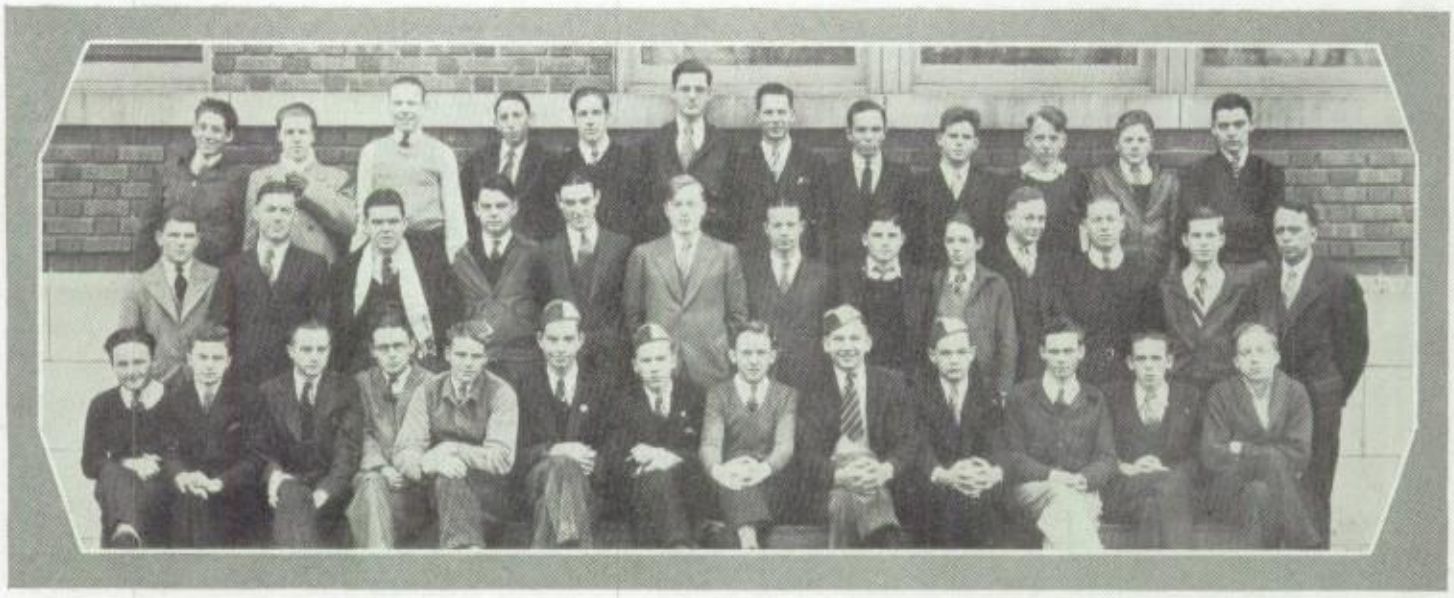
Our Girl Reserve triangle
Three principles contain,
Each one of which, neglected,
Brings on regret and pain.

Our minds and souls are quite as real
As are our hands and feet,
And one omitted or abused
Might cause complete defeat.

In this I'm sure you will agree
Nor offer doubt or strife,
That proper care of all the three
Makes for the rounded life.



Junior-Senior Hi-Y Club

OFFICERS

CHARLES KNOUSE ..... President
RICHARD LEE ..... Vice-President
CARROLL LITTLE ..... Secretary
EUGENE BURDICK ..... Treasurer

This year's club has been active along several lines of endeavor, chief among these was the series of vocational guidance talks by Emporia men which was jointly sponsored by the Hi-Y and Kiwanis Club. Other activities were the Father-Son banquet and the regular bi-weekly meetings with talks by prominent men. The Hi-Y also sponsored a play, "New Brooms," and jointly sponsored "Treasure Chest" with the Girl Reserve.

HISTORY OF HI-Y CLUBS

The Hi-Y Club in Emporia High School dates from 1908. In this year the first club, called the Y. M. C. A., was organized with Rice E. Brown, then history teacher, as the faculty sponsor. The first state Y. M. C. A. camp was held at Soden's Grove, 1911. The club has always been active in Bible study and in life and vocational problems. A member of the Hi-Y, John Stanley, was the first student Y. M. C. A. secretary employed by Emporia.

FORREST DAUGHDRILL ..... President
HAROLD IREY ..... Vice-President
EDWIN THEEL ..... Secretary
BILL CLEVER ..... Treasurer

The Sophomore Hi-Y during its second year of organization has striven unusually hard "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character." This year we have particularly stressed a high standard in clean living, clean speech, clean athletics, and clean scholarship.

Some of the things which our members will long remember are: the watermelon feed at which nearly thirty good melons quickly disappeared; our noon lunches every Tuesday at the "Y"; the Father and Son banquet; the hot-dog stand at the football games; the Hi-Y tennis tournament.

Second Row—Alberta Holt, Alberta Rogers, Doris Collier, Lida Gandy.
Third Row—Miss Walls (sponsor), and Mrs. Stafford (advisor).

Colored Girl Reserves

The Colored Girl Reserve has done more this year than in previous years and we consider this year a very successful one. Some of the activities of our club have been: a program once a month at one of the three colored churches, singing at the First Christian Church, a Hallowe'en banquet, a Christmas party for small children, singing at the Broadview Hotel, a banquet at the Y. W. C. A., a breakfast Easter morning for members of the club, and singing in the Re-Echo chapel program. The officers of the club are: Bonita Davis, president; Alberta Holt, secretary; and Jenny Wilson, treasurer.

Second Row—Mary Kretsinger, Dorothea Lutt, Miss Douglass, Stephen Henderson.
Third Row—Merle Jones, Roy Rigdon, Paul Lewis, Carl Faust, Alvin Robohn, Thomson Holtz, Frank Foncannon, Kathryn Hanna, Donald Thomas.

The Cicero Club

Only those taking third year Latin may belong to the Cicero Club. Since it is so exclusive, only nineteen members compose this club. The purpose of the Cicero Club is to make better Romans of its members. A constitution much like that of the United States (but not quite so lengthy) was adopted limiting the members in their rights of citizenship.

The club lets the outside world know what it is doing by a Latin newspaper. Those who can't read Latin are just in the dark.

Up and Atom Club

The Up and Atom Club is a science club composed of students who have a special interest in science work. This year we had seventy-five members.

Many interesting and unusual programs were presented and all of the members gained some new and helpful information. Entertaining demonstrations were given by different members of the club, educational films were shown, and talks were given by outside speakers.

A skating party was held at Soden's pavilion on November 9th, at which everyone had a good time skating and eating refreshments which were prepared by the social committee.

Officers of the club are: Albert Clark, president; True Retschlag, vice-president; William Fuson, treasurer; Jeanette Retschlag, secretary. Joe Fulton was treasurer during the first semester. The committee chairmen are James Brandt, program, and Rodney Collins, social.

The contestants and their subjects are, left to right:

First Row—Albert Clark, "The Adequacy of the American Constitution"; Lola Donez, "Roosevelt and the Constitution"; Doris McGuire, "Constitutional Civil Liberties"; Irene Smith, "Abraham Lincoln and the Constitution."

Second Row—Charles Knouse, "The Citizen, His Duties and Privileges Under the Constitution"; Miss Miller (coach); Forrest Daughdrill, "The Constitution, A Guarantee of the Liberty of the Individual."

Oratorical Contest

The annual High School oratorical contest conducted by the Kansas City Star, was held in Emporia, March 10.

The contest centered around the Constitution of the United States. The purpose of this contest is for the promotion of a better understanding between nations by means of the exchange of national viewpoints.

Twenty dollars in prizes were offered by the Kiwanis Club of Emporia. Miss Doris McGuire won first place in the Emporia contest. The judges were K. W. Davidson, Vincent A. Davis and F. B. Ross.

ECHO

MARY EMILY KEELER
Editor

BETTY BOWMAN
Business Manager

Another successful year for "The Emporia Echo" has come to a close and the school publication has satisfied its readers regularly each week.

The campaign for subscriptions began in the second assembly when Mary Emily Keeler, the editor, and Betty Bowman, the business manager, talked.

October 9th and 10th, six staff members journeyed to Lawrence to attend the journalism conference sponsored annually by the K. U. department of journalism. The representatives were: Mary Emily Keeler, Ruth Winn, Mary Kretsinger, Ruth Jones, Kenneth Ace, and Harold Coe.

The name of the publication has been changed this year from "The Echo," to "The Emporia Echo." New features of the paper are: "Hits of the Week," "Breezy Brevities," and "Atoms of Science."

Seniors, April Fool's Day, and G. R. were recognized by special editions.

The Re-Echo has been a definite part of Emporia High School for many years and each year it grows larger and better in some way. The 1932 Re-Echo, working under adverse conditions, has continued to add new features and to rank high with other annuals throughout the state. The members of this year's staff have been willing to work and co-operate with the faculty and the student body and it is through their combined efforts that this book has been published.

The first meeting of the Re-Echo staff, which was held in September, was in the nature of a social event. The staff held business meetings once every two weeks throughout the year. The Re-Echo chapel, February 19, launched the subscription sale of books. Thirteen pounds of candy were offered as prizes in the subscription contest which proved to be a hard fought battle. The last event of the year for the Re-Echo was the annual picnic which was held the last week in May. At the picnic, books were presented to the members of the staff after which a very elaborate feed ensued.

Football Summary—1931

The 1931 football season was one of the most successful ones in recent years for the Huckstep crew. They won five games, tied one, and lost two.

To climax a great season they decisively defeated Ottawa, the state champions, by a score of 21 to 6.

Track Summary—1932

After track had been on a decline for several years, it was again put upon its high standard through the efforts of Coach Huckstep.

The track team made trips to a number of track meets, mainly: Lawrence, for the K. U. Relays; Baldwin; Eureka, to qualify for the state track meet held in Emporia.

E. H. S. had one of the best half-mile relay teams in this section of the state. This team was composed of Hubert Colvin, Lindell Petty, Alva Gould, and Bill Clever.

Second row—Kelley, guard; Smith, forward; Fish, guard; Trowbridge, forward; Hagins, forward; Carle, center; McGlinn, forward.

Basketball Summary—1931-1932

The Emporia High School basketball team had one of the most successful seasons since that of 1924. They were defeated by only two teams: one the first semester, and one the second semester. The team was victorious in nineteen games.

Many of the first team boys graduated at the end of the first semester and in January only one regular appeared. However, Coach Huckstep had plenty of good material to fill the places of those who graduated.

E. H. S. closed its basketball season at the State Tournament in Wichita, winning its first game from Arkansas City and losing its second to Parsons who went to the finals.

Girls' Athletic Association

The Girls' Athletic Association is composed mainly of those girls interested in extra-curricular athletics for girls. It is a member of the Kansas State High School Girls' Athletic Association with headquarters in Topeka and follows the state point system. Under this system, upon earning 600 points one may get an "E"; with an additional 400 points one earns the state "K"; and with a total of 1400 points one earns the final award which is a badge.

The club has for its purpose the promotion of interest in athletics for girls and the encouragement of good sportsmanship at all times.

Meetings are held monthly. There were also several social events held during the year. A Hallowe'en party was held at the Y. W. C. A., and a picnic at Peter Pan Park. A Girl Reserve meeting was supervised by the G. A. A. early in May. During the last week in April the G. A. A. sponsored a posture contest which was won by Helen Ives.

The Senior Prophecy

Mid its lights and scintillations
I can see the future shining;
Shining on my friends, my classmates.
I can see them in their wanderings
And I see their occupations, and
How they make their bread and butter.

I can see our brave class president—
Alva Gould, our mighty athlete,
Charging through a successful season
As the star of the New York Giants.
In the studios so spacious
Of the Embry Radio System—
George Sparks croons the latest song hits,
Written by the melodious Blakely.
Then in George Burnap's theater
Appear a troop of actors, dancers:
Thelma Field, second Pavlowa,
Walter Shaw and Jeanette Retschlag.
Loyette Martindale is teaching
Spelling in the Lebo College.
Edith Eisenhauer is owner
Of New York's most gaudy night club.
I can see Joe Fulton working
In the laboratory odorous,
Helped by Albert Clark, his partner,
Smashing atoms into pieces.
Then beneath a pile of papers
I see Ora May Traxler working,
Making an encyclopedia
From her great store of knowledge.
Mary Hellmer is the owner
Of a chain of dry newspapers,
And Miss Meckel, great essayist,
Writes the editorials for her.
In the snows of Northern Greenland
Hunting for the expedition
Of ill-fated Barton Carothers
Is the noted Edgar Schmucker.
In a sky high office building
Studying under Dr. Brinkley
Is Lloyd Morgan, famous surgeon,
Down below him howl his victims.

Then the diamond slowly darkens
As a veil drifts slowly o'er it;
And the futures seem more gloomy
For the ones whose fortunes follow.

Frances Onstad is no longer
But is—now meet, Mrs. Collins.
Mildred Mowl and Margaret Ryan
Both have joined the ranks of wedded.
Lois Reeble, brilliant student,
Still goes to Emporia High school;
Now with Glenn Fish, she's a teacher,
Teaching childish sophs and juniors.

H. C. Jent, poor boy, is dead now;
True, they say, the good all die young.
Richard Lee is in Chicago
Hunting gangsters like Bruce Loomis.
Rhea Little has the worst job—
President of our glorious nation.
While Clair Stockton cuts a few throats
At the barber shop of Hagins.

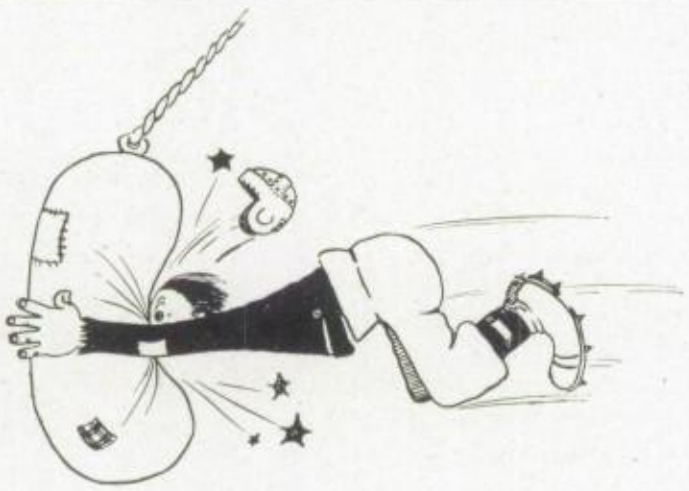
Now the crystal clears and brightens,
And the pictures are more happy.
Thelma Pyle, concert pianist,
On her second tour of China
Finds the artist Lucille Remy
Painting fences for the Russians.
In the wilds of cold Siberia,
Is True Retschlag, super-salesman,
Selling Frigidaires to natives, and
Celluloid frying-pans to the people.

Edwin Maddern now is flying
O'er the jungles of the Congo
Taking gum drops to the traders,
Willis Hoover and Max Bowers.
Marjorie Jackson swings a hatchet
In the speakeasies of Plymouth.
Lola Donez is interpreter
For the League of Nations Council.
Margaret Morris is the well-known
Authoress of "Why Men Leave Home".
Barbara Beach is now the president
Of the great Beach School of Music.
Marvin Kipling, chain store magnate,
Buys his food from Robert Cowan,
Foreman of the Curly Q Ranch,
And Howard James, the master farmer.

Junior Francis now is making
Mass production types of "Moonshine",
The new ultra-violet ray lamp;
Rodger Moon is its inventor.
Then among the towering buildings
Of the mighty town of Olpe,
I can see wise Jerome Brinkman,
Builder of that lordly city.
Treading amid the admiring crowds comes Ruth
Winn, society matron,
Leader of New York's "four hundred",
Wedded to the mouse-trap millions.
Lyle Stotts and Robert Myers,
Strong men, are in Ringling's Circus.
Round them rides great Della Clements,
Tight-rope walker and trick rider.

Thus the diamond foretells fortune,
Shows us in our coming travels,
Helps us then to meet the future,
And courageously press on forward
Till we meet and beat life's battles.
Pressing forward, success finding,
And all the time forgetting never
Good old E. H. S. our high school!

CALENDAR AND ADS



SEPTEMBER

8—We are back to tramping the halls again.

9—"Say, mister, where's the study hall?" innocently asks a Sophomore. "On the fourth floor, kid," the lordly Senior condescends to answer. But luckily a Big Sister comes to the rescue.

11—We are hardly over the pleasant shock given us when we saw the new dress the stage is wearing. We saw red when the curtain was pulled all right.

15—First call for the football boys. Coach Huckstep hopes for a championship team this year as twelve lettermen report.

17—The G. R.'s start the year off with the introduction of officers. The Hi-Y's discuss their programs for the coming year. Ruth Winn and Charles Knouse are their respective presidents.

18—Organized noise starts in Room 10 as the Girls' Glee Club is chosen by Miss Sowerby.

19—The G. R.'s have a Setting Up Conference overnight. We wonder if they "set up" all night or early in the morning.

23—The Boys' Glee Club is organized. Immediately the cry is raised for a party for the two glee clubs.

24—The Re-Echo staff is organized, tentative assignments given out.

25—From the sound which issued from the second hour physics class it must be the Fourth of July. Bernard Reeble says it was an accident.

26—Our first football game, and it with Manhattan, is a tie. How did they hold our "mighty forces" to a score of 0-0?

28—A nice big five-pound box of candy goes to Mr. Ledle's second hour class. Personally we doubt whether the "football chocolates" will be appreciated as much there as in our second hour class but to the victor belongs the spoils.

29—The science enthusiasts organized the Up and Atom Club. Vera Jean Piper elected chairman of the clean-up committee and Big Bob Meyers is elected bouncer.

30—Frances Willard receives the plaudits and the attentions of the two Hi-Y's. Meanwhile in the G. R. camp the Army and the Navy are being groomed for their annual battle over magazine subscriptions.

OCTOBER

2—The Hucksteppers get in to their stride and lay Eureka out 26-0. More power to them.

3—School work lags as the World Series begins.

5—Drizzle, drizzle, drizzle. One might even say the sky is weeping but it has a good reason. Cornelia Conwell, last year's Re-Echo editor, died last night.

6—Prof. Fitz de Snoozer, eminent Patagonian scientist, and Dr. Nitro Glyseryniski, of Oxford, alias Bill Fuson and Roger Moon, test the affections of the members of the Up and Atom Club. What makes the boys so indifferent? Because the girls are "hotter."

7—"How many 'scriptions' have you got?" "I'm for the Navy!" and similar cries are echoing through the halls. All the boys are seen with small Army or Navy footballs. Where'd they get them?

8—Listen to the birdies. The C. of E. Girls' Quartet entertain us. So do the cheerleaders.

10—Our first home game, and Fredonia wilts under us, 35-0. At the same time the Cards clinch the series so we can study next week. Who said that?

12—This week is the lull before the storm, and what a storm tsk-tsk—it will be if the mutterings of the teachers are any warning.

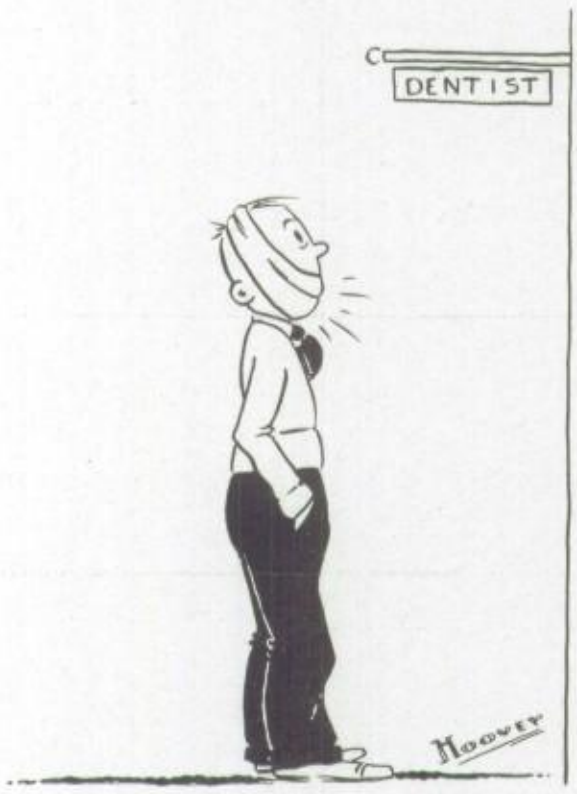
15—Hi-Y and G. R.

16—Next week can't stay off but three days more, meanwhile we must prepare the home folk.

17—The Em-Hi gridsters hit a stump as Hutchinson beats us 18-6. Better luck next time.

19—With much fear and trembling we approach our teachers to get our cards, after we get them we reproach them. When it's all over it appears that Ada Wright and Rhea Little head the list.

20—The serious Seniors elect. Gould takes the chair as Mr. President of the reigning class.



22—A musical assembly. Mr. Just presents some budding and some blooming musicians. Mr.

Thank You;

The Spirit that prompted you to come to us for your Annual Photograph is sincerely appreciated. And we trust you were well pleased in every way with the result.

Brown talks on the life and example of Edison who died last week.

24—Our "mighty forces" again assert themselves as we show Burlington our heels (and stiff arms) 46-0. To date we have made one hundred six more points then our opponents in football.

26—The two glee clubs ride "hayrack" out to Dryer Park. The evening is spent singing the "good ole songs" and more recent hits.

27—The divisions of the Up and Atom Club are getting busy. Several have had meetings and a few are working on programs for the club.

28—The football play has been chosen and try-outs will be next week. We wonder who the heroine will be. Don't everybody speak at once.

29—Miss Miller presents a little play to the Girl Reserves, while Mr. Cutshall speaks to the combined Hi-Y's.

31—Behold the conquering heroes come. We beat Marion 13-0. Which seems rightly unlucky for them. Who's next? Tonight is Hallowe'en and in this town, "the police will get you if you don't watch out."

8—Students in Miss Hubbard's Spanish classes show their proficiency in that language by presenting a program in the auditorium. It sounds fine even if we can't understand them.

a half holiday to see the Santa parade down main street.

11—While the rest of the school are pitying Santa's poor reindeer the Hi-Y delegation to the conference at Manhattan starts gaily off.

12—In chapel the Girls' Glee Club gives its debut. The G. A. A. has its Animal Party at which several movie stars (psuedo) appear. We always considered the stars rather catty so they were probably quite at home.

13—It turns out to be a lucky day for the Hucksteps.

14—Open wide please—for its dental inspection day. We go slinking down the halls visualizing future trips to the dentist.

17—The G. R. and Hi-Y clubs jointly celebrate the Christmas season with carols and a Christmas play by the Speech II class. The G. R.'s also have a dinner at the Y. W.

18—The Echo comes out with numerous letters to Santa Claus. If he answers all of them he'll get into trouble with the teachers. We wish the teachers a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year and away for a two weeks' holiday!

JANUARY

5—Back in school again with that new beret or necktie. They ought to give us another week of vacation to recuperate from the last two weeks, but now we're into the grind again.

6—The Senior II's met with Miss Thomson to fill out their information blanks so that the teachers will know where to send them when they graduate.

7—Another assembly rolls around again and we hear Dorothy Baltz play the violin while Dr. Dando gives a talk on prayer. The G. A. A.'s at their meeting decide once again to feed the starving public at the basketball games.

8—The regular Every Pupil Scholarship contests in the various subjects cast a pall of gloom over the High School which is dispelled only after the news reaches us that our team won its first game over Burlington with a score of 33-11.

9—Burlington comes to Emporia but is disappointed for we beat them again, this time only 29-17. Not such a bad start.

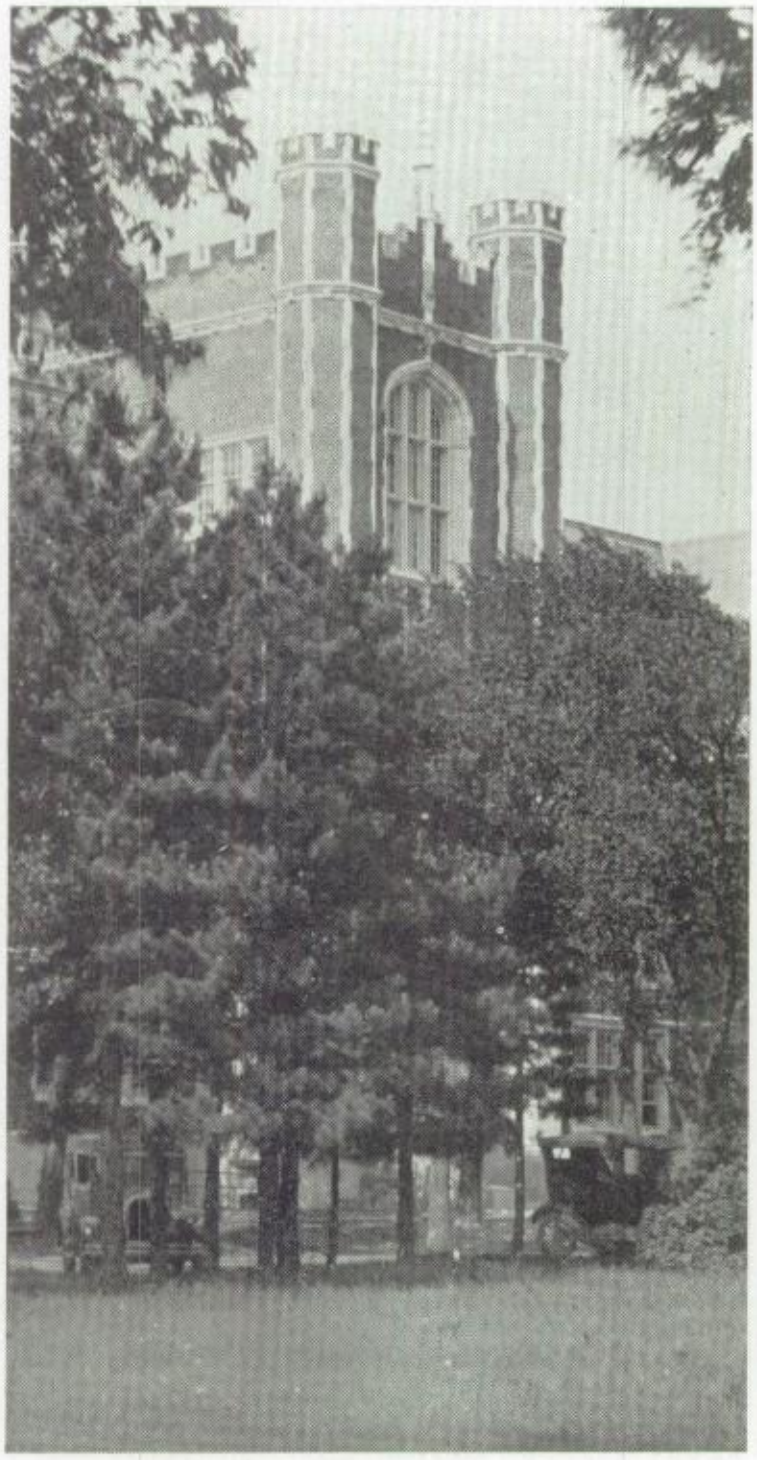
14—The G. R. and Hi-Y's have their meetings.

"For Your Golden Years"



The College of Emporia offers to the youth of Kansas, and especially of Emporia, a million dollar plant, a faculty of devoted professors, a history of 50 years of service with distinguished alumni, an atmosphere of idealism, and a program of practical work that will prepare students who come properly prepared for its courses, to take a man or woman's part in the contest called Life.

It is the purpose of the College of Emporia to make its ideal of service as joyous as possible, for after all the college years are the golden years of life.

15. But pride cometh before a fall and on the sixteenth we drop our first to Augusta.

18—The various Senior II's who have graduated and still lounge around the halls are met with sighs of envy by all concerned. The teachers all vie with one another to see who can give the hardest tests.

13—The game of the season! We beat the touted Topeka team and tooted them off the court, 20-18. If the tears of joy shed after the game were put in one tank you could drown in it.

Senior Class History

The history of the senior class, taken from the diary clippings of a mouse was revealed at the senior banquet, and proved of so much interest to those present that we deemed it wise to make a permanent record of it which would enable the entire student body to enjoy it, and so we print it here.

August 31, 1929—Turned three somersaults getting down the stairs today to tell my husband that I heard Mr. Brown say that school will start next week and there'll be a large class of sophomores. And oh dear! dear! my family only half-grown. How will they ever live among so many noisy feet?

It all happened early today, a bright sunny morning (this is dated September 8), they came, 250 strong. Some from the Lowther Junior High School and some from the country round about. But this new class of sophomores isn't so bad; and from now on I'm going to take special notice of it, for just today little Willie Mouse was caught in a corner by a group of these new sophomores. I was sure it was his last, for any one of them could have easily stepped on him, and I said, "Quick, Henry, the flit!", but just then I heard Donald Resch say, "Let's catch him alive and give him to Margaret Morris." Then Kermit Davies spoke up and said, "Oh no, let's not be so hard on him; let's let him go; he's so cute and he's not even half-grown yet."

September 15—The teachers and upperclassmen seem to be taking special notice of this promising bunch, for with their "fifty-seven varieties" of pranks and jokes no one will see a dull moment through their three short years of training. Each one, with a mind "99.44% pure", looked Mr. Brown in the eye as if to say, "We are ready for work, and when the teachers are through with us they'll know that "they have had their iron today".

Here's one in October—Had to stay in the Study Hall to avoid detection today while the sophomores had a meeting and elected Harold Wayman president, who promised to give them "service with a smile".

January 11, 1930—Thought it was "time to retire" last night but heard a great commotion and found practically everyone in school back and each one making three times the normal amount of noise. Someone called it the Em-Hi Frolic but I thought it was a "crazy-house".

Here's another quotation—Another September has rolled around and the "pause that refreshes" is over. This year the Jolly Juniors decided to "say it with flowers" instead of studying; but at the end of the first six weeks they awoke with a bang and decided to bank on nothing but good solid work, for "It does make a difference where you do your banking".

October 27—My favorite class must have thought that "it pays to choose a sex" that can get things done, for they chose a girl, Ruth Winn, to lead them.

This year must have gone smoothly, for the next entry I found was in the latter part of the year.

Warm spring days find the Juniors, who believe in "safety first", still hard at work but often wishing for "economical transportation" to the "ole swimmin'-hole". Lucille Remy would have "walked a mile for a camel" to pony her through Latin.

" 'Not even their best friends would tell them' how they acted when they became seniors," is a quotation I found a few pages farther on.

September 17, 1931—This year their heads are turned toward diplomas. Today in the hall, where it was "15 degrees cooler inside", I heard Evelyn Montgomery ask Wayne Boles how it would feel to have a diploma. He replied, " 'Ask the man who owns one'."

January 20—"4 out of 5", returning, have made outstanding records. Dorothy Baltz, with her violin music, has pleased all ages, and "even children cry for it".

When they hear Marion Tibbals sing, they know that she has "been kind to her throat".

The "floating power" of their grid warriors won them many victories; even Ottawa went down in the mud and mire before their "vibrationless motion". As autos bore their muddy heroes back to town amid the snake-dancers' hideous cheers, "there was not a cough in a carload". For the class has learned that "chief of values" was health. No better proof is needed than their 89 "sun-kissed" lasses with that "schoolgirl complexion" and 82 boys with their knowledge that "it pays to look well".

Hubert Colvin made a "step to success" by his willingness to help people.

Rodney Collins made a name for himself at the Science Club "free-wheeling" party by serving hot-dogs, for everyone said, " 'They satisfy'." And Vera Jean Piper made known her cooking ability by makink cocoa that was "good to the last drop."

Lois George put on "the best show in town" by being a shock-absorber for Mr. Jones's electrical stunts.

Frances Onstad and Dorothy Star have mutually agreed to "beware of substitutes" since the Football Banquet of 1931.

Albert Clark has found "the great American value" by living up to the motto "be square".

I don't want to brag too much, but let me read you these quotations.

Junior Cook asked Miss Thomson if she didn't think this was the best class she'd ever sponsored and she replied, " 'Good! They've got to be good!' " and when Nola Davidson asked Mr. Lodle if there could be any better group, he replied, " 'When better classes are made, Emporia will make them'."

Even a janitor who "chases dirt" "at 10, 2, and 4" around the halls of E. H. S., remarked that to the best of his experience their class was by far "the best in the long run"

And now Alva Gould, with his "wizard control" is piloting them safely through their senior year.

"There's a reason" why the whole class has showed the school "style without extravagance".

Armed with their diplomas, they shall "startle America" "asking no favors, fearing no roads", for they are bent on getting a higher education. Next year will find some at the "home of the Yellowjackets", some "safe with the preachers", and some at the "school that gets results".

And as they leave their dear E. H. S., "the flavor lingers" but they must leave to show the world that they are the "cream of the crop".

Senior Class Will

We, the dignified members of the senior class, of 1932, being in a sound and disposing state of mind, do hereby bestow and bequeath upon faculty, sponsors, and schoolmates, the following faults, talents, and personal possessions, both tangible and intangible to wit:

To the faculty we will our honest confessions that we are not Solomons, with the suggestion that these said confessions be used to help instruct the incoming seniors, that they may not err as we have done.

To our sponsors we can do no more than to express our appreciation for their assistance in helping us to prepare for our last stand in dear old E. H. S. May they have success in arranging another senior banquet to equal the one of '32.

To the juniors who have been promised standing as seniors, as an award for their diligence in work and conduct, we leave our skill in appearing to be in blissful ignorance. This asset is to be used during the first twelve weeks of the next school year in order that the faculty may be able to find a use for its share of our booty.

Alva Gould, our amateur boxing champion and president of the senior class, desires that his prowess be transmitted to Mike Kreuger.

Dorothy Baltz, our vice president, bequeaths her popularity and demure ways upon Doris McGuire, feeling she desires the former and needs the latter.

Albert Clark, renowned chemistry and physics shark of our class, leaves his position in the laboratory to Thompson Holtz, in view of the fact that Thompson has already done much towards following in his footsteps.

Although we feel that it is not necessary, Helen Ives insists on leaving her surplus vanity to Lee Ona Kuhlman.

Junior Cook wants John Strube to inherit his interest in the Vogue Magazine, to be read during fourth hour study hall.

Mary Emily Keeler bequeaths her agility, which saves her from being late by a half minute, to her brother Clinton.

Helene Jensen very graciously bestows her lady-like ways upon Betty Jane Furman, hoping she will use them to the best advantage.

George Sparks blithefully leaves his manly grave to Carl Kowalski, effeminate member of the junior class.

Alvira Groundwater leaves her ability to appear studious and busy in the library to Rosemary McCarthy in order that Rosemary may be able to spend more time there.

Harold Wayman wills his place in the glee club to Frank Foncannon, hoping Miss Sowerby will be able to mould his discordant tones into a semblance of music for Mary K's sake.

Bill Fuson leaves his place as class jester to Forrest Daughdrill, who has the uncultivated ability to carry on the good work.

Murray Lohner, with a mournful sigh, gives his sylph like figure to Carroll Hysom.

Mary Green, Vera Bentz, Rhea Little, Clara Louise Meckel, and Mary Hellmer bequeath their places on the honor roll to anyone in school who can "soft soap" the teachers enough to get the grades.

Mason Carr, Carroll Little, Alex Murphy, Jerome Brinkman, Robert Howell, and Keith Sellers wish the following to inherit their unassuming gentlemanly ways: Elvis Urquhart, Gene Van Orden, Paul Clay, and Meredith Foster.

Ruth Winn leaves her position as president of the Girl Reserves with all the dignity appertaining thereunto to any statuesque blond, five feet ten.

George Burnap, George Johnson, Vance Rindom, Rollo Cochennet, and Rodney Collins, give their position as "ladies' men" to Marvin Ashbaugh, Lyndon Francis, Max Beehymer, Charles Bergerhouse, and Winston Moon, who they know, have long envied them this positon.

True Retschlag tearfully leaves Virginia Lee to the care of some deserving underclassman.

Curtis Jones, who has long been a member of the high school student body, bequeaths the place to Don Cuthbertson who is a close second.

To Jack Wilson, who is to become an aviator, Lloyd Morgan gives his red head to be used as a headlight for night flying.

Henry Aldis wills his initiative and industry to Kenneth Remy, who so sadly needs it.

In conclusion we leave to the entire student body our grades, that they may inviegle the various instructors into placing them on the honor roll. We feel that the present Junior class needs these grades, worst of all, as statistics show that this class has been leading them on the honor roll the past twelve weeks by a count of 40 to 17.

Lastly, we appoint and nominate the sponsors of the class of 1932 to be the executors of this our last will and testament. In witness whereof we have hereunto set our hand and seal this 21st day of January, 1932.
